Client brief

Kia ora Genevieve

It was great to meet you last week to talk through your ideas and aspirations for your new garden. I'm excited to get started on the design of your peaceful outdoor retreat.

This brief sets out what you would like from your new garden. It serves as a form of agreement between us.

We both agree that the garden design will:

- Encompass the area broadly defined as:
 - from driveway to front of your house including the area directly in front of the patio
 - the path to main house
 - the space immediately to the east of your and enclosed by the pittosporum hedge.
- Provide a cosy, sheltered, outdoor space for you to share a meal with up to six of your friends or whānau.
- Include a lawn for you to sit on and read a book on those hot summer days; a lawn that won't get boggy in the winter.
- Block out the wind and visually screen off the main house and patio.
- Incorporate raised garden beds so you can try your hand at growing vegetables.
- Give you a way to get to the main house on bare feet, all year around.
- Provide space for visitor parking and maintain some form of vehicle access to the space.
- Incorporate low maintenance native plants and those that attract pollinators and birds.

Legal constraints

There are no known constraints at this time. If any are identified during the design process they will be factored into the design.

If I have missed anything or you have thought of anything else since my visit, please let me know so that I can incorporate it into this brief.

If the description above captures your desires for the garden, and you'd like me to go ahead with the design, please sign and date this document in the space provided on the following page, or confirm by email.
